

The Michigan Uniform Advisers Act imposes a fiduciary duty on investment advisers. As a fiduciary, WealthStrategies Financial Advisors, LLC (WealthStrategies) has a duty of utmost good faith to act solely in the best interests of each of our clients. Our clients entrust us with their funds, which in turn places a high standard on our conduct and integrity. Our fiduciary duty compels all employees to act with the utmost integrity in all of our dealings. This fiduciary duty is the core principle underlying this Code of Ethics and Personal Trading Policy, and represents the expected basis of all of our dealings with our clients.

Standards of Conduct

This Code of Ethics consists of the following core principles:

- The interests of clients will be placed ahead of the firm's or any employee's own investment interests.
- Employees are expected to conduct their personal securities transactions in accordance with the Personal Trading Policy and will strive to avoid any actual or perceived conflict of interest.
- Employees with questions regarding the appearance of a conflict should consult with the CCO before taking action that may result in an actual conflict.
- Employees will not take inappropriate advantage of their position with the firm.
- Employees are expected to act in the best interest of each of our clients.
- Employees are expected to comply with federal and state securities laws (Employees should see Appendix A of Compliance Policy Manual for a listing of federal and state securities laws). Strict adherence to this Policy Manual will assist the employee in complying with this important requirement.

Protection of Material Nonpublic Information

As more fully discussed within our Privacy Policy, employees are expected to exercise diligence and care in maintaining and protecting our client's nonpublic, confidential information.

Employees are also expected to not divulge information regarding WealthStrategies' securities recommendations or client securities holdings to any individual outside of the firm, except:

- As necessary to complete transactions or account changes (for example, communications with brokers and custodians);
- As necessary to maintain or service a client or his/her account (for example, communications with a client's accountant);
- With various service providers providing administrative functions for WealthStrategies (such as our technology service provider), only after we have entered into a contractual agreement that prohibits the service provider from disclosing or using confidential information except as necessary to carry out its assigned responsibilities;
- With the client's written consent; or
- As required or permitted by applicable law.

Personal Conduct

As noted above, employees are expected to conduct themselves with the utmost integrity and to avoid any actual or perceived conflict with our clients. In this spirit, the following are required of employees:

Gift Policy

Employees are prohibited from receiving or giving any gift, gratuity, hospitality or other offering of more than $100 value from any person or entity doing business with WealthStrategies. This gift policy generally excludes items or events where the employee has reason to believe there is a legitimate business purpose.

Service as Director for an Outside Company

Any employee wishing to serve as director for an outside company (public or private) must first seek the approval of the CCO. The CCO, in reviewing the request, will determine whether such service is consistent with the interests of the firm and our clients.

Outside Business Interests

Any employee wishing to engage in business activities outside of WealthStrategies's business must seek approval from the CCO and, if requested, provide periodic reports to the CCO summarizing those outside business activities.

New and Annual Employee Acknowledgement

New employees must acknowledge they have read, understand, and agree to comply with this Code of Ethics and Personal Trading Policy. All employees are required to acknowledge they have complied and will continue to comply with this Code of Ethics and Personal Trading Policy annually in connection with the firm's annual policy manual acknowledgement process.

Please do not hesitate to contact us with questions about this notice.